

German Teacher Saves His Head

(By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, May 18.—The testimony of the physician of "Schoolteacher B" that the teacher had an affection of the head which made it imperative that he should guard it from cold drafts has saved the unfortunate man from a fine of ten marks which had been laid upon him in a disciplinary process.

The crime alleged was that the teacher had not lifted his hat high enough nor swung it outward far enough in greeting a superior, a director of the school where he was teaching. The director, who was taking a walk with "Professor B" met the defendant and his wife and greeted them courteously. After they had passed on, the professor called the attention of the director to the fact that the teacher had lifted his hat "in a very negligent fashion." The matter came to the ears of the provincial authorities, who fined the teacher ten marks for having greeted his superior negligently, in violation of a law of July 21, 1852.

"Schoolteacher B" appealed to the court. He declared that he had not "given his hat the usual swing" because of an affection of the head which, as the day was very cold, compelled him to take precautions against letting a cold draft strike him. His physician corroborated this testimony and the fine was cancelled.

OVER 1200 ENTRIES FOR AMATEUR ATHLETIC INTERCOLLEGIATE EVENTS

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 18.—More than twelve hundred entries are in the hands of the secretary of the intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America for the forty-first championship games of the Association, to be held at Cambridge, Mass., on May 26 and 27. Twenty-four colleges and universities, including Stanford and California from the Pacific coast and Michigan from the middle west, have entered teams and the two-day meet in the Harvard stadium promises to be one of the most closely contested in the history of the organization.

Yale leads with 146 entrants, the New Haven university having named the limit number of contestants in a majority of the thirteen events which compose the program of track and field contests. Cornell, the present intercollegiate championship holder, is second with 122 and Princeton third with 111. Michigan is well up in the list with 81 names while Stanford has 32 and California 19. Among the other institutions which have entered large teams are Pennsylvania, Amherst, Dartmouth, Harvard, Mass., I. T. Penn State and Syracuse. Georgetown is the only southern representative.

The colleges which have entered contestants in every event include: Amherst, Bowdoin, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Stanford, Mass., I. T. Michigan, New York University, Penn. State, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Syracuse and Yale. The university of Maine also entered a number of athletes, but the names were received considerably after the official time set for the closing of the lists and there is some doubt as to whether these entrants will be permitted to start. The California entries are confined to the two hurdle and five field events. The largest number of entries have been received for the sprints, runs and broad jump, totalling well over one hundred in each of these contests.

COPPER GROUP LOCATED

What promises to become a valuable copper property has been located by L. F. Clair, F. R. Hackley, J. W. Reynolds and J. Burr, all Nevada men. It is situated in the Pilot mountains in the Silver Star mining district, eight miles east of Mina. The property consists of four claims, traversed by a ledge carrying an average of $35.28 a ton in copper on rough sampling of the outcroppings. Work on development has been begun.

RESTORED TO HEALTH

After undergoing seven operations several of which were capital, Joseph Almquist, battery man at the Tonopah Extension mill returned to Tonopah. He had been in a San Francisco hospital for six months. Mr. Almquist is convalescing rapidly.

AZURITE TUNNEL NEARING A FINISH

YERINGTON MOUNTAIN COPPER COMPANY GETTING IN SHAPE FOR SHIPMENT

Operations are now being carried on in four places in the estate of the Yerington Mountain Copper company, situated near Schurz on the Nevada and California railroad. This work is being done in the Beach tunnel, the Levene tunnel, the Azurite tunnel and the shaft. From the Levene tunnel a winze is down about sixty feet.

The Azurite tunnel is being run on the opposite side of the hill from the other workings. When completed, it will facilitate the transportation of ore to the railroad, cutting the distance down several miles. This tunnel is now in nearly 1000 feet. It will require a total distance of 1,800 feet to strike the ore. The ledge will be cut at a vertical depth of 400 feet. When this tunnel is operating the haul to the railroad will be only three or four miles. The shaft at last report was 540 feet deep. A crosscut is being run to the ledge from the Levene tunnel. The lead is between six and seven feet in width and is all of commercial grade.

A compressor has been installed at the mouth of the Azurite tunnel. When hand work was employed the tunnel made only 14 feet a week, and now the machines are sending it ahead at the rate of 40 feet a week. Some water is being encountered, but not enough to impede operations.

Stopping is in progress in the Beach tunnel and ore is also being taken from the winze. The bins at Schurz are kept constantly filled and ore is going to the smelter at the rate of a carload every third day. As soon as additional openings can be made on the ledge the output will be much heavier.

JOHN LUCE, who has been finishing a chemistry course at the University of Nevada, arrived from Reno this morning to spend his vacation with his parents.
